

BRIDGEWATER SCHOOL

FUNDAMENTAL BRITISH VALUES - STATEMENT

This statement applies across the whole school including EYFS

INTRODUCTION

The values of our School are embodied in the mission statement and the aims of the School. These reflect the ethos of Bridgewater and our expectation that shared values are fundamental to our strength as a community.

We actively promote the fundamental British values (as defined by The Department for Education which takes its definition of British values from the Home Office's Prevent strategy) of democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty, and mutual respect and tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs. This is achieved by challenging opinions or behaviours in School that are contrary to fundamental British values. We believe British values are those values expected of anyone living in Britain, regardless of their nationality, culture or religious belief.

We aim to ensure that all pupils understand that while different people may hold different views about what is 'right' and 'wrong', all people living in England are subject to its law.

HOW FUNDAMENTAL BRITISH VALUES ARE PROMOTED

Across the entire curriculum, both academic and pastoral, and through many extra-curricular activities, fundamental British values are actively promoted. The examples below give a snapshot into some of the ways in which Bridgewater works to promote Fundamental British Values through the ethos and life of the School, for example through a broad and balanced curriculum, and through social, moral, cultural and spiritual development.

SUMMARY

All staff and students at Bridgewater School are expected to behave with integrity, tolerance and compassion in their dealings with one another. We provide opportunities for all pupils not only to explore their own cultures but also to understand how these align with British values and how we can work together as a community for the greater good. Every member of the community has a part to play in enshrining the core values and beliefs so as to build a strong, united and democratic school. Where unfairness or bullying is found to exist it will be routed out, and democracy and the rights of individuals will take centre stage.
